Loyal To You by Sarah Kades

1. The theme of loyalty is woven throughout this book. What does loyalty mean to you within the context of family? Is it different for friends?
2. Grace has a polarized relationship with her grandfather. Is there anyone in your life you don't see eye to eye with? If you would want them to understand one thing about you, what would it be?
3. Tucker has not forgiven himself for not realizing his father's potential. Has there been a time in your life when someone surprised you with their choices or behavior?
4. Both Grace and Tucker adjust their lives in response to the actions of others. Has there been a time in your life when the actions of another, good or bad, deeply changed the trajectory of your life? What did you learn?
5. Duty is another theme that is threaded throughout the book. What does duty mean to you? Is there anyone you feel duty-bound to? Did you choose the circumstances, or were you born into them?
6. Some could argue that Grace has an unhealthy relationship with responsibility. What do you feel responsible to or for? What advice would you give Grace to manage the consuming weight of the responsibilities she feels?
7. Tucker dismisses the idea that he can be a chef. He already has a career as a police officer and has recently made detective. Have you ever felt pulled away from your chosen career? What did you do?
8. Grace's quest for the truth rippled across generations and was the catalyst for some significant changes in her family. Have you ever experienced the opening of a Pandora's box? What happened?
9. Tucker heard his older brother Colt's voice when he was in danger. Have you ever received inexplicable help when you needed it? What happened?
10. Grace's spiritual path is at odds with the religion she's obligated to support. Has there been a time in your life you felt you had to keep your true self hidden? What advice would you give someone struggling with intolerant attitudes?
